EXAMINER'S STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Concerning independent claims 38 and 47 to 49, the prior art of record does not disclose or reasonably suggest a method, system, and computer readable medium comprising a set of instructions, wherein a third graphical display window displays to a translator an updated status table to indicate modifications to natural language portions of source text of a computer program that is displayed simultaneously with a first graphical display window of a first version of natural language portions in a first natural language and a second graphical display window of a second version of natural language portions in a second natural language.

Malcolm ('903) is the closest prior art of record for a limitation of an updated status table to indicate modifications to translated source text of a computer program, where changes are tracked and logged during development of a program prior to an end product. However, Malcolm ('903) does not expressly show how the tracked and logged changes are displayed, and does not show that a graphical display window for the tracked and logged changes are displayed simultaneously with first and second graphical display windows for versions of natural language portions of source text of a computer program in first and second natural languages.

Applicants' Specification, Page 26, Line 4 to Page 28, Line 9: Figures 12 to 14, describes status descriptions and delta and compare processes, generally, and Figure 30 illustrates first and second graphical display windows 3008, 3012 for first and second natural languages, and "Status" and "Change Type" indications at the bottom of a screen panel, where "Status" and "Change Type" indications are equivalent to a third graphical display window. The prior art of record does not disclose or reasonably suggest simultaneously displaying first and second graphical display windows for first and second natural languages, and a third graphical display window for an updated status table.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to MARTIN LERNER whose telephone number is (571)272-7608. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:30 AM to 6:00 PM Monday to Thursday.
